

Public Input to the FCC
Telecommunications Relay Service Docket CG 03-123
September 14, 2006

Hello. My name is Leala Holcomb. I'm from California. And I would like to speak about American Sign Language. For example TTY, I have to use English to communicate through the relay system. The videophone is great. I feel like I can share information more readily. So videophones and VR, is very important for deaf people. Now, with movies I have noticed that some are not captioned and I pay full price to go and sit to watch a movie and I would pay that price to sit there for two hours and have no idea what's being said because there's no captions. So rear view captions is not friendly and captioning in general for entertainment really needs to be improved.
